

TexPrint Decoder

What you're actually buying, in ten seconds

subligeniusprint.com

SOLD AS: XPHR / DT XP LIGHT

DT Light (was XPHR)

WEIGHT

105 gsm

PRINTERS

Epson desktop

SUBSTRATES

Soft and hard

SOLD AS: R / DTR HEAVY

DT Heavy (was R)

WEIGHT

120 gsm

PRINTERS

Ricoh, Sawgrass Virtuoso

SUBSTRATES

Soft and hard

The Two-Question Check

Ignore the name in the listing title. Read these two numbers instead.

1

What's the gsm?

105 = Epson desktop. 120 = Ricoh or Virtuoso. No gsm listed, no sale.

2

Which printer is it for?

The listing should name your printer type, not just the brand.

If You See These, You've Wandered Off

XP, Sports, MP, and Moda are large-format and textile production papers, not desktop sheets. If a listing shows one of these names, it isn't meant for a home or small-shop printer.

This mapping is based on matching published specs, weights, and printer compatibility, not a formal renaming announcement. For production orders where the exact coating matters, confirm with your distributor.